OUR PHILOSOPHY

The Academy at GPC was founded on the principle that the educational experience must be personalized to every student's passion. Where traditional schooling is bound by a rigid, outdated curriculum, our forward thinking approach provides our students with the real-world skills, knowledge and traits necessary to further pursue their passion in college and in life successfully.

The cornerstone of our coaching and education rests on the 5 Elements of Success:

- Desire
- Physical
- Coaching
- Mental
- Equipment

Through these five principles, we offer an individualized, passion driven learning environment in which student-athletes are challenged to maximize not only their performance on the course but in the classroom and in life.

IN THE CLASSROOM

The Academy at GPC partners with a fully accredited, NCAA approved, online middle school and high school for grades 6-12, US Performance Academy. While students learn remotely, they also receive support from learning coaches who are invested in each student's academic success. Our blended learning curriculum consists of academic courses along with the development of the skills, tendencies, and grit necessary to pursue their passions in college and in life. Our student-athletes' schedules closely resemble a typical collegiate athlete schedule, teaching them the skills to

- Manage their time
- Prioritize tasks
- Self-monitor their progress.
